

president Prakash Ambedkar claimed on Wednesday.

To justify his contention, Ambedkar pointed to a Facebook post of one Raosaheb Patil who, the BRP chief says, is a "close aide" of Sambhaji V. Bhide, president of Shri Shiv Pratishthan Hindustan, a pro-Hindutva ultra-rightist outfit from western Maharashtra.

Raosaheb Patil's post on 1 January terms Fadnavis, his ministerial colleague Girish Bapat and former journalist Sudheendra Kulkarni as "insects" (keeda) who could be "chopped off."

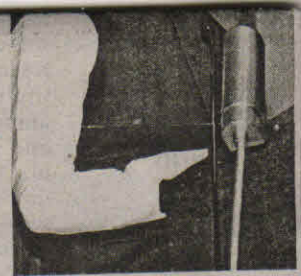

ta and instead talk on issues of the public.

"I urge the members of the House to work together with a positive outlook and an objective of taking the state to the acme of development without getting entangled in vendetta politics," said the Governor.

He said this in his address on Wednesday, during the first Assembly session of the 13th Himachal Pradesh Assembly after the Speaker of the Assembly was unanimously elected.

The people of the state have given the members the responsibility of making all possible efforts for the development of their respective constituencies and the state as a whole, he said.

The election process was completed in a cordial atmosphere, he said and added the ill-will which must have cropped up during the campaign needs to be forgotten in the interest of the state and with a thought as to how every citizen of the state becomes prosperous, educated, secured, healthy and great.

The Opposition should forward constructive resolutions with objective of formulation of good policies, he said. "There has been a new opening and I wish new niches of progress and development are carved out with the co-operation and support

Parrikar: issue to be before tr

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
PANAJI, 10 JANUARY

Making a U-turn on Mahadayi river water sharing issue, Goa chief minister Manohar Parrikar today said the ongoing dispute with Karnataka will be fought before the Mahadayi Water Disputes Tribunal.

Parrikar, who has been facing flak over his letter on the dispute to Karnataka BJP president B S Yeddyurappa last December, today blamed the media for "making an issue out of a non-issue".

In his missive sent to Yeddyurappa, Parrikar had said Goa could share the water with Karnataka for drinking purposes and expressed his willingness for bilateral talks.

The letter created a controversy as it was addressed to the BJP leader instead to Karnataka chief minister Siddaramaiah who represents the state government.

The letter, viewed as a political gambit by Parrikar ahead of Assembly polls in the Congress-ruled southern state, had evoked a sharp reaction from Siddaramaiah and Opposition parties.
